

Briefing

Working together to develop excellence in economics, business and enterprise education.

EBEA Member Survey - new A levels in Economics and Business

The first cohort of students took the new A levels in economics and business this summer and the EBEA is keen to find out what members think of them, how they might be improved and what the Association might be able to support you and your students in the future. Ofqual is also keen to find out what our members feel about the new A levels and we have agreed to share overall findings with them as part of their consultation process. Separate links for the economics and business surveys are given below, using Survey Monkey. The basic questions will only take five minutes to complete but there are spaces for longer responses if you wish to make them (and they will be helpful to us). The survey is confidential and only overall findings will be shared with other organisations. Findings will, of course, be made available to members through an e-newsletter and the website. Please take the time to complete these important surveys in the next two weeks.

Web links for Survey Monkey - Economics and Business surveys

Economics: <https://www.surveymonkey.co.uk/r/MYX2PFC>

Business: <https://www.surveymonkey.co.uk/r/M79SQFX>

